MARCOS NOGUÉS, MBA, CFA

CHIEF INVESTMENT OFFICER & OXFORD INVESTMENT FELLOW

"My focus and that of Oxford's entire investment team is to fully analyze and understand the technical considerations of all investment opportunities and to craft solutions designed to help each client achieve their desired outcomes and aspirations."

Marcos Nogués is the Chief Investment Officer for Oxford Financial Group, Ltd. Marcos manages the Oxford Investment Fellows and is a member of the Oxford Investment Board. His primary responsibility is to lead the firm's investment management team and develop the long-term vision, policy and strategy for Oxford's investment services practice.

Prior to joining Oxford, Marcos was Managing Director of Investments at Mirador Family Wealth Advisors, the family-office division of Fifth Third Bank. In that role he led an investment team focusing on the needs of families with net worth greater than $50 million. The team was responsible for the development, oversight and communication of all investment activities.

Previous to Mirador, Marcos built and managed Bank of America's institutional investment strategy and solutions team, the outsourced CIO business for the firm. Additionally, he led asset allocation teams for LaSalle Bank and U.S. Trust.

Marcos received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from the University of Maryland, College Park. He received his Master of Science degree in Finance from Universidad del CEMA in Buenos Aires, Argentina. He went on to complete his MBA at the University of Chicago.

Marcos lives in Indianapolis with his wife Val and their two sons Mateo (12) and Nico (9). As a family they enjoy sailing, skiing and travel, including a yearly trip to Argentina to visit family.
