

LEADERSHIP PROFILE

David Luebbe serves as Vice President for Mayfair Capital Partners™, the direct private equity investing platform of Oxford Financial Group, Ltd. In this role, David is responsible for sourcing and analyzing potential new investments and follow-on investments for existing portfolio companies, as well as managing relationships with portfolio company executives.

David originally joined Oxford as a Senior Associate where his duties included the sourcing, evaluation, execution and management of investments within Mayfair Capital Partners.

DAVID M. LUEBBE VICE PRESIDENT

"Effective investing is rooted in perpetual learning, meticulous analysis and prudent judgment. It is through our commitment to these pillars that we uncover investment opportunities aimed at achieving attractive risk-adjusted returns for clients."

Prior to joining Oxford, David was a Senior Associate at Goldman Sachs in the Asset Management Division's Private Equity platform where he focused on tech-enabled business services and software investing. Prior to joining the Private Equity group, David spent the first two years of his career in Goldman's Investment Banking Division covering the healthcare industry.

David graduated from the Indiana University Kelley School of Business with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business with high distinction and a concentration in Finance.